

Correctional Officer of the Year Award

Officer Kenneth L. Williams has received the Captain John Olin Sanders Correctional Officer of the Year Award for 2014. Williams was recognized at the Alston Wilkes Society's 53rd Annual Meeting and Awards Luncheon on November 19, for his dedication and service to the South Carolina Department of Corrections.

A 21-year US Army Veteran, Williams began working with SCDC in 2008. His selfless drive for serving the community inspired him to work for Corrections. He illustrates exceptional dependability, diligence and attentiveness while conducting his primary security duties as Trenton's maintenance and tool room officer. In addition, he assists with transportation and road crew duties.

Officer Williams has received numerous Can Do awards and continues to find ways to develop his knowledge of law enforcement, including the recent completion of Crisis Intervention Team Training and participation in the S.C. Gang Conference, hosted by SCDC.

Officer Williams has played a vital role in assisting with Trenton's recruitment of Correctional Officers to include participation in local job fairs. He enjoys spending time with his family and serving his community. He demonstrates the mission of Safety, Service, and Stewardship daily through his thoughtful care of fellow colleagues and offenders at Trenton Correctional Institution.

Congratulations, Officer Williams!
