

Denim Day 2016 at SCDC

April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month and Department of Corrections employees showed their support for survivors and concern for raising awareness of rape and sexual assault by wearing denim on Wednesday, April 27, 2016. The following is group of employees from Headquarters modeling their finest jeans for the camera.

This form of protest originally began in Italy, as a result of a court ruling that found because a young girl had to “help” her rapist remove tight jeans that act equaled consent. Women in the Italian Parliament protested by wearing denim the very next day, and the protest spread. Denim Day is now internationally recognized.
